 The ‘closing’ of Finnish grocery stores – also stated to most likely happen in the US as well...in November.

Finland: grocery stores may close to conserve power. Grocery stores in Finland could have to take turns closing for hours at a time to reduce their energy usage this winter, the country's grid operator told news outlet YLE on Sunday. With fuel shortages expected, Finnish households will also be told to lower their consumption. According to the grid operator, Finland's roughly 2,800 food stores will need to come to arrangements with each other over who will close and who will stay open if power is rationed in a particular area. This kind of agreement is especially important in rural areas to ensure that all the outlets in one town or village don't end up shutting at the same time, YLE noted. <https://www.rt.com/news/559952-finland-close-stores-power/>

GLOBAL CURRENCY RESET

Economic Slowdown Now, Recession Coming In 2023 – Per Federal Reserve, "We're not in a recession right now. We do have these two-quarters of negative GDP growth. To some extent, a recession is in the eyes of the beholder. With all the job growth in the first half of the year, it's hard to say there's a recession. With a flat unemployment rate at 3.6 percent, it's hard to say there's a recession," stated James Bullard, St. Louis Federal Reserve president."

The Attorney Generals of 19 states demand answers from Black Rock's CEO, Laurence Fink, for contradictory positions on ESG and energy investments. Black Rock has a fiduciary duty to create the best possible return on investment, but is instead "using citizens' assets to pressure companies to comply with international agreements such as the Paris Agreement that forces the phase-out of fossil fuels, increase energy prices, drive inflation, and weaken the national security of the United States."
